

1. Applications subscribe to an event-driven system for events notifications

2. The event-driven system detects, processes, and notifies the existence of events

